THE STORY

Riccardo, a professional painter, struggled for 30 years with strained hands and wrists from using traditional straight-handled brushes and rollers. He was determined to find an easier way to paint.

His solution was to invent a lightweight brush with an ergonomic, air-filled handle that happened to resemble the head of a duck. Thus was born the American Mallard paintbrush!

American Mallard's intuitive, patented design allows your hand the freedom to move naturally as you paint.

American Mallard brushes are designed and made in America with premium materials and quality craftsmanship.

OUR DIFFERENCE

American Mallard brushes are designed for maximum control, comfort, and minimal mess. The intuitive designs blend natural form with everyday function that literally reshape how we view the painting process and provide painters with the right tool for the right job.

FEATURES:

- Lightweight, ergonomic design
- Comfortable air-filled grip reduces cramping
- Micro-textured handles for more secure grip
- Index finger guide point for more accuracy
- Change paint color with removable brush head

Paint with ease.

Store upright when not in use.
